Go to the module configuration by these two different ways:

Via Modules tab of the administration panel: search in the module list the Responsive gallery module. When the module is correctly installed, you can click on the Configure button.

Via the module itself: Click on Responsive Gallery tab which is a sub-category of Preferences. The page listing the images in your gallery is displayed. Click on the Configuration icon at the top right of the page.

On this page you can see, at the top right, 3 links allowing you to add images to your gallery via the Add or edit image icon, to view the gallery of your store via the Preview gallery icon or to change the URL of your gallery via the Edit URL icon.

Listed below are the configurable elements of this module:

The number of item per page: this field matches to the number of items to display at the same time when a user scroll down the browser page.

The horizontal margin between your images: it defines, in pixel, the space between the image and the image to its right or the image to its left.

The vertical margin between your images: it defines, in pixels, the space between the image and the image located above or the image underneath.

The inner margin for your images texts: it sets the margin for the legend that is located on the image.

The fade-in speed when loading is done: it is expressed in milliseconds.

The max square box in which your image will be fitted: if the size of one of the sides of the picture exceeds this dimension, it will be resized.

The max square box in which your image will be fitted in the back office: it limits the size of the image displayed in the back office at the update to one of its fields.

The five different display steps associated with the number of elements per line: they are used to define the number of images per line according to the width of the screen in pixels.

Use

To change your website gallery, click on Gallery responsive tab which is a sub-category of Preferences or click on the Add or edit image icon directly from the module configuration page.

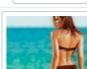

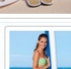

At the top right, links allow you to add an image to your gallery, to view the gallery on your website or to access on the module configuration page.

The items in the gallery are shown on this page in a table that summarizes the main characteristics of the element.

Listed below are the possible actions from this page:

Add: to add an item click on the Add new icon at the top right of the page. Several fields are available. After selecting the image via the Add file button, you can choose to associate a link to this image. When the user will click on the gallery image, it will be redirected to the page of your store associated to this link. Finally, you can specify a legend that will be displayed over the image. Click on the Save button to save the image.

Edit: you can edit an item by clicking on the corresponding line or by clicking on the EDIT button.

Remove: it is also possible to delete an item by clicking on the Delete button positioned next to the Edit button. You can delete multiple items in a single click by selecting the images and clicking on Delete selected.

Enable / Disable: images can be enabled or disabled through the activation icon. If an image is disabled, it does not appear in the gallery. You can enable / disable several elements of a single click by selecting the images and clicking on Enable selection / Disable selection.

Move: you can change the position of an element of the gallery by a drag and drop to the position you want.
